

MIDBEST RELEASES FIRST SINGLE AND MUSIC VIDEO FOR DAT DOUGH THO

VIRGINIA BEACH, VIRGINIA – On Friday, January 12, hip-hop duo, Midbest, featuring members Jared Beasley and Kris Demeter, released their first rap single and corresponding music video for Dat Dough Tho: a jelly-filled, “deliciously-gangster” jam.

The music video for Dat Dough Tho has already experienced success on Facebook, gaining more than 30 thousand organic views within the first few days of its release. Watch it on the Midbest official Facebook page or YouTube.

Inspired by the storytelling style of early hip-hop artists, Midbest is on a mission to make the genre fun again, with tracks ranging from tongue-in-cheek trap-rap to catchy hip-pop ballads. Dat Dough Tho, produced by Sergey Rybchinskiy of Diamond Style Productions, exemplifies Midbest’s carefree sound. The music video, directed by Beasley and Daniel Jeter, brings Midbest’s sound to screen.

Dat Dough Tho is the first of 12 singles Midbest will release in 2018—one per month—followed by the release of their first full studio album in early 2019.
